

STIM-2002: Electro-Therapeutic Pain Blocking Splints & Bandages

- STIM-2002 are revolutionary pain relief devices
 - Non-invasive; worn or placed directly on body
 - FDA-approved for treatment of acute/chronic muscle & joint pain
 - Safe, effective alternatives to drugs
- Easy-to-use wireless devices deliver low-level electrical impulses
 - CT1 - LCD display with push-button control
 - CT2 - Remote-control
 - CT3 - Integration in splints/braces/bandages
 - CT4 - "Ultra-miniature" Band-Aid™-like units
 - CT5 - Functional rehabilitation units
- Benefits include pain relief without drugs plus:
 - NO side effects
 - NO contraindications
 - NO addictive potentials
 - NO limitations on time of use
- Target markets include sports medicine / home health care / industrial medicine / rehabilitation / emergency care

Projected/Current Sales:
TBD

Commercialization:
Started

Cyclotec Advanced Medical
Technologies, Inc.
Lauderhill, FL

BioPhysical Laboratories (Biofil)
Sarov, Russia

Lawrence Livermore National Laboratory
Livermore, CA